

Mark T. Nakagawa serves as a Civil Servant supporting the Department of Defense and Intelligence Community. Prior to his retirement from the U.S. Army, he served in various leadership and staff positions throughout the world, including Europe, Korea, and Iraq; from the tactical to strategic level. He began his career assigned to 1st Battalion, 10th Special Forces Group (Airborne), at Flint Kaserne, Bad Toelz, Germany. His military career culminated with positions serving at the White House Military Office and the Department of Army Staff.

He served as an officer and is a member of the Executive Committee for the Japanese American Veterans Association (JAVA) continuing the mission of educating the American public about the Japanese-American experience during World War II. He is also a council leader for the US – Japan Council (USJC).

Mark was born in Okinawa, grew up in Hawaii, graduated from Iolani School and the University of Southern California with a Business Administration degree. He has three masters degrees and attended the Naval Postgraduate School at Monterey, CA (National Security), Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, KS (Military Arts and Science), and George Mason University at Arlington, VA (MBA).